THE TELEPHONE IN GLENDALE

What the Home Telephone Co. Has Done and Improvements Contemplated—Growth

The telephone is now such an established institution and has become such a necessity that it is difficult to imagine the conditions existing before its advent. Yet there was a time and that not so many years ago when Glendale had no telephone service. It must have been about 1885 when the first telephone line was put into the valley. There was a grocery store at that time run by A. S. Hollingsworth on Glendale avenue near Park avenue and it was there that Mason postoffice was established and it was into that postoffice that the first telephone wire entered. It was a public pay station, the uniform price being 25 cents. This condition existed until 1904, when the San Fernando Valley Home Telephone company brought their lines out to the valley, the company having been organized by Messrs. Guthridge, Brand, Holliday, Platt and Zahms, who still control it. Their office was in a small building near Fourth and Central until removed about six months ago to the present commodious quarters in the north end of the Woods hotel building on Brand boulevard, upstairs. The present quarters will have to be greatly enlarged by taking in adjoining rooms before the improvements contemplated can be made. These improvements will consist of a 3-position multiple switchboard of the latest type with an ultimate capacity of 3600 phones and a complete change in the system by which the troublesome "crank" which users now have to turn in order to ring in their call, will be done away with. At the same time the battery and ground wire at each telephone will also be relegated to the scrap pile. This means the installation of a central battery at headquarters and the use of five or six times as much power as is now required there. The current necessary for telephone service will be secured by a "rectifier" which will take the alternating current from the power wire and convert it into a direct current. The rectifier is one of the latest scientific inventions in electrical world consisting of a glass bulb from which the air has been extracted and which is filled with mercury vapor and containing platinum contacts. The use of the rectifier makes unnecessary the use of a dynamo to convert the alternating into the direct current. The removal of ground wires is expected to result in the doing away with a very large proportion of the interference which comes from induced currents from the power wires. When the new system is installed there may be four telephones on a wire, but every telephone being tuned to its own particular key, will be affected only by the current intended for it, so that there will be no confusion arising from the ringing of other bells than the one for which the call is intended. Another improvement will consist in a general extension of the underground system which will ultimately replace the overhead wires. Already this company has a large portion of its wires underground, particularly that section between Pacific avenue and Brand boulevard, while the entrance of all wires from outside into the office is made underground. The present system is outgrown and the existing cables overcrowded and one of the first things to be done is to string new cables. New cables are to be constructed between the main office and Tropico and North Glendale at once. About the first of the year the Home company reduced its rates to meet those of its competitor, since which time the business has grown remarkably—both companies now have a flat rate of $1.50 per month for family phones.

Since the present manager, Mr. F. H. Covert, took charge last February, there has been an increase of nearly 100 phones in the district which comprises Glendale, Tropico, Burbank, Eagle Rock, La Canyada and Lankershim, and orders for new phones are coming much faster than they can be supplied on account of the crowded condition of the cables. The company has 15 lines between Los Angeles and Glendale.

When the new system is installed the switchboard will be taken care of by three operators, everyone of whom can reach all the switches on the board, but will only be required to attend to her own section. At present the force consists of four operators, two linemen and a manager.

Altogether the history of the Home Telephone company in Glendale and its present flourishing condition is one of the many instances of the growth of a well managed business, indicating by its own growth the general and continuous growth and importance of the community.

FLIES—OF IMPORTANCE TO EVERYBODY.

For some time we have been inquiring for a cheap preparation that will kill flies. Here we have it on the authority of the London Lancet:

"The best and simplest fly-killer is a weak solution of formaldehyde in water (two teaspoonfuls to the pint). Place in saucers or plates throughout the house. Ten cents worth will last an ordinary family all summer. It is practically non-poisonous except to insects. Pyrethrum powder burned in the house will also kill flies."

The above comes to us from the Merchants Association's committee on Pollution of the Waters of New York, accompanied by a number of valuable hints in regard to dealing with the fly nuisance and our thanks are hereby given to that useful organization.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Rev. J. H. Moody, 217 Orange street, Friday, September 3, at 2:30 p. m., subject, "Why I Wear the White Ribbon." Let every member give a reason.

CITY OF GLENDALE vs. NESOM

Defendant Pleads Guilty and Pays Fine

As announced in last Saturday's NEWS, J. J. Neeson was brought before Recorded Whomes at 3 o'clock Friday of last week on the charge of selling liquor at his drug store contrary to the ordinance of the city. Upon request of the defendant the hearing was postponed until Monday afternoon following, when upon the statement of Chas. S. Evans, Esq., attorney for Mr. Neeson, that he had not had time to look into the case, postponement was again had until 4:30 p. m., Wednesday last.

At that time before Recorder Whomes and a dozen spectators, Mr. Neesom and his attorney appeared and plead guilty to the charge. In behalf of his client Mr. Evans made a plea for leniency, stating in extenuation that in the case against the defendant, the complaining witness (the detective Titlebaum) had twice been refused liquor, but that at the third solicitation he had been furnished a small quantity. In the few other instances where liquor had been sold it was only for medicinal purposes. He stated that Mr. Neesom is a good citizen of Glendale, desirous of continuing to make his home in this community and wishing to do nothing to forfeit the esteem of his neighbors; promising that the future conduct of his business would give no cause for complaint. Mr. Evans desired the court to understand that he appeared for Mr. Neesom not merely as his attorney, but as his friend as well, knowing him to be worthy of confidence.

Mr. Baker, city attorney, made a statement with the intention of making clear the position of the city. In regard to the sentence, being a first offense, it was not desirable to be more severe than the necessities of the case required. He stated that it should be his policy in the future where he appeared for the prosecutor in a similar case, to insist upon a prison sentence for any offender brought up for the second or further offense. In the present case the fine should not be so light as to be regarded as being equivalent to a license, as is sometimes the practice in so-called prohibition communities.

He appreciated the remarks of his colleague in defense of the accused but wished it understood that there were other counts in the complaint aside from the particular instance at issue, and cited them, giving dates, etc.

Mr. Evans again spoke briefly, assuring the court that the business place of his client would from this time on be conducted strictly in obedience to the law and that city officials would be welcome at any time without warrant to investigate his stock for themselves. The judge in imposing sentence made some appropriate remarks as to the seriousness of the offense and gave his judgment to the effect that the defendant pay into the city treasury a fine in the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars. This was done immediately and the case was closed.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Kels Dramatic company, an ambitious local organization, presented "Richard the Third" at Filger's Opera house, last Monday. Glendale is evidently not yet properly appreciative of Shakespearean tragedy, as there were only about fifty persons present. Mr. William Wallin represented the principal part and brought down the house on several occasions. Mr. Wallin is evidently at home on the stage and showed an intimate familiarity with the part. The rest of the company gave evidence of careful drilling, but it was difficult for the audience to understand a very considerable portion of the dialogue. The acoustic properties of the hall are not first rate and amateurs need to overcome this handicap by distinct speech addressed as directly as practicable to the audience.

A fair sized audience attended the vaudeville and minstrel performance at K. of P. hall, Tuesday evening.

The program was an attractive one and was appreciated by the audience.

If the lady who found hand bag in ladies' toilet at Long Beach auditorium August 20th, will return the gold watch, brooch and eyeglasses to 826 E. 18th street, Los Angeles, she may keep the $35.00. No questions.

OUR LOST AND FOUND COLUMN.

Our collection of choice pick-ups from the street grows weekly and we shall soon have a sufficient number to make it worth while to auction them off. At the head of the list is that set of false teeth, yet unclaimed. We know now almost for a certainty that the unfortunate loser of these very useful articles is not a subscriber for the NEWS—else he would not now be toothless. The fact illustrates very forcibly our contention that no family can afford to be without this weekly journal of civilization. Now a properly regulated reader of the NEWS would have watched anxiously for the next issue of the paper after the teeth disappeared, and have been made happy by learning that they were "not lost but gone before." Quite possibly the owner of them is one of those unfortunate individuals who "takes the Los Angeles paper and can't afford to take the NEWS," in which case his condition is inexpressibly sad. The Los Angeles papers may tell him (very unreliably) where to get a new set, but give him no hope of the return of the old. There are so many things that the Los Angeles papers seem to be deficient in, that the reader who depends upon them rather than on the home sheet (which costs twelve and a half cents per month) for valuable information, is foreddomed to live in a sad state of comparative ignorance.

The bunch of keys (number 48) also belongs to a non-subscriber, who no doubt has lost much valuable time, spent money and possibly used bad language in consequence of his ignorance of their whereabouts.

The Yale lock key only came in last week, so the status of its owner is not yet quite established.

The latest find is a brand new, in fact, uncompleted white shirt waist, which will be delivered to the lady who proves property, as the editor has not been able to utilize it. Apply at the "Lost Article department," first floor, next to the business department—not necessary to take the elevator or anything else that may be lying around.

P. S.—A large common door key and a small Yale lock key attached to a string have just arrived.

POSTMASTER.

EAGLE ROCK

Dr. Geo. E. Cox and family will leave the first of the week for Ocean Park to spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Schrieber of Kenilworth avenue, returned Monday, after spending a week at Catalina Island.

Mrs. F. M. Bryan of Los Flores Drive and her daughter, Ernestine, have been stopping in Catalina Island for a few days.

We learn from a reliable source that Mr. H. C. Tupper of Eagle Rock has leased Mrs. Hershey's place on Colorado avenue.

Mr. F. W. Pitcher and family of Hill avenue and Royal Drive will leave for a few weeks' vacation at Venice the first of next week.

Mr. A. P. Sprague, who recently purchased a neat bungalow in the southwest part of Los Angeles, will move his family from the valley next Monday.

FAVOR EAGLE ROCK SITE FOR COLLEGE.

Preparations for the building of Occidental college are reaching some degree of definiteness. Though the site of new buildings has not been decided upon, there seems little doubt that the land at the junction of Eagle Rock and New York valleys will be accepted. The majority of the board of directors are in favor of this site.

HAPPILY SURPRISED.

Miss Lillian Ellias was most happily surprised by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Ellias, and sister, Miss Emily Ellias, Wednesday when a delightful afternoon was planned for her during her vacation.

Music and games whiled away the afternoon only too soon for Miss Ellias and her guests, who were Miss Margaret Edelman, Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Miss Eula Richardson, Miss Alta Stone, Miss Laura Shea and Miss Alma Stone.

CONCERT BY HELEN BEACH YAW.

A rare treat for music lovers and an opportunity to help a worthy cause at one and the same time.

On next Monday evening, August 30, the world's greatest prima donna, Helen Beach Yaw will give a concert for the benefit of the Kings Daughters Day nursery at her home in Covina. Admission 50 cents and $1.00.

Items of Interest

Boys' golf caps at Carney's.

The West Glendale and the Glendale Grammar schools will open on Monday, September 13th.

When you want a nice necktie for 25 cents, go to Carney's Shoe Store.

Mr. D. Feicke has purchased the business of the Glendale Pressing Club on Brand boulevard.

Glendale Market—Fine beef, lamb, veal and pork. Try us and be convinced.

South Pasadena is building a storm drain at a cost of $27,000. It is to drain an area of about 500 acres.

Jones' Meat Market, Third and Glendale avenue. Quality and quantity as you wish at fair prices. 2w17

The picnic excursion last Saturday was a great success. The Pacific Electric sold 900 round trip tickets. There were several special cars and the accommodations, both on the cars and the beach seemed to be generally satisfactory.

You can't make a mistake in buying your shoes at Carney's Shoe Store in Glendale. Prices are lower than elsewhere and Carney makes all wrongs right.

Mrs. McNutt of Sycamore Canon has sent four boxes of fruit to the Kings Daughters Day nursery, Manhattan Beach. Perhaps there are others who have fruit to spare and would like to do a good deed. If so, write or telephone to Mrs. Rice, Tropico, 263 Sunset 'phone.

Straw hats cheap at Carney's.

Petitions are being circulated to bring about the annexation to Los Angeles of all the territory lying between that city and East Hollywood. The territory to be annexed will include Colegrove, South Hollywood, Dayton Heights and the Arlington and Wilshire districts.

If you want the best of meats for the least money, go to Glendale Market.

The highway commission is having a concrete bridge put in at the wash on San Fernando road at West Glendale. It is to be a capacious and substantial affair, but to one familiar with the possibilities of that capricious stream, it has the appearance of being inadequate to meet the demands made upon it in time of flood.

Jones' Meat Market—Call Sunset 1471 and we will deliver you meat that will suit. 2w17

By an act of the last legislature, it is not now allowable to charge any tuition fee for High Schools. Heretofore it has been the custom to charge a fee for pupils who entered from without the district. In Los Angeles pupils attending the High School have in some instances been required to pay as much as $75.

A nice line of fancy shirts at Carney's.

THE NEWS was misinformed in regard to Mrs. Gibson (appointed teacher of music in High School for the coming year), having taught in Ventura county. The lady has not taught in the schools of this state; her last position in this line of work having been in the conservatory of music at Blue Mountain, Miss., a school having an attendance of four or five hundred pupils.

Special for this week—Gent's suits sponged and pressed, 50c.; all skirts steamed or dry cleaned and pressed, 75c.; ladies' suits cleaned or dry cleaned and pressed, $1.50. All work guaranteed. Glendale Dye Works, W. Lewis, prop. Our wagon calls. Sunset phone 2071; Home 832.

AROUND THE WORLD.

Mrs. M. J. Turner of Los Angeles, who lives much of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Thornton of Central avenue, sails from San Francisco on October 1 for a trip around the world.

Picturesque Japan with its quaint customs and costumes, its unique scenery, its cherry blossoms and chrysanthemums, is the first country to be visited. India, dear to the reader of Kipling, will next engage the attention of this brave traveler of seventy years who travels alone except in such places where safety or the difficulty of the language cause her to join one of Cook's Tours.

After traveling through the Orient Mrs. Turner will pass considerable time in the European countries and intends staying some weeks in Florence which, because of its art treasures and fine architecture, is her favorite place. Former travels have taken Mrs. Turner through many countries including Old Mexico, Honolulu and the United States. Two years ago on a trip to the Holy Land Mrs. Turner was taken ill in Cairo, Egypt, where she was tenderly cared for by the natives.

Mrs. Turner expects to be gone two years and will have many new experiences to add to the fund which makes her conversation of great interest to her relatives and friends.

GLENDALE, CAL., AUGUST 28, 1909

A large number of our subscribers have failed to notice the reminder sent them a month ago in regard to their subscriptions. Attend to it now while you think of it and so add to our numerous causes for rejoicing.

Six and one-fifth miles in eight minutes and four seconds is the airship record made at Rheims by M. Bleirot. As a typical specimen of "decadent" France, M. Bleirot seems a misfit.

How have we degenerated. In the good old days of Rome, they butchered somebody to "make a Roman holiday." Nowadays we cut off the head of the yellow-legged Plymouth Rock, travel twenty miles in a crowded car, pay good money for the privilege of doing so, tramp the sands and eat the chicken and call it "having a good time."

The Los Angeles Express copies from the Detroit Free Press some comments on the free list of the new tariff. We find therein this statement, "Cudbear, Kieserite and myrobalans are also on the free list." Then in explanation we are told, "Myrobalans is a dried fruit from the East Indies." It once was that the "myrobalan" was a wild plum tree native to France, imported by nurserymen as a hardy stock upon which to bud other varieties of plums.

At the Denver meeting, the other day, of the Association of State and National Food and Dairy departments, James Foust, food commissioner from Pennsylvania, called attention to the practice of watering sausages and asked the convention to investigate it. We believe the investigators would find a most prolific field for discoveries along this line should they come to Los Angeles. We have bought in local market more than once in times past a mighty poor quality of water at twelve and a half cents per pound.

The Second Annual Magazine edition of the Calexico Chronicle, published by Otis B. Tout, editor and proprietor, of that evidently prosperous journal, has reached this office. We sincerely congratulate Mr. Tout and the Imperial Valley on this fine number. The most important and naturally the most interesting article in the book is the story of Imperial Valley as told by Charles R. Rockwood, the man who first made known its possibilities to the world. To any one interested in Imperial Valley, and to a certain extent this should include everybody, this edition is of great value.

A writer in the Evening Express twenty?five years ago said: "Los Angeles county can support a population of 300,000."

Los Angeles city at that time had a population of about forty thousand and there were probably as many more people in the county outside of that city. The writer quoted was not much of an optimist; indeed the wonder is that he could place the estimate so low, for the population was increasing very rapidly at the time he wrote. If he still lives he now sees his 300,000 people in the city of Los Angeles alone; whether the county is supporting them is another matter, but as far as we can discover they all seem reasonably well satisfied with their lot.

AS TO HOLIDAYS.

We favor short hours, liberal wages and frequent holidays for the individual, but the closing up of all the business establishments of the town, city offices included, in order that everybody may attend a Sunday School picnic, verges so closely upon the ridiculous that we hope not to see it again in Glendale. We have a liberal number of legal holidays (one or two that come near being superfluous), suppose we let it go at that and hereafter do business on business days.

Somebody has hinted that our merchants yield to solicitations to close their places of business, against their own judgment and desire, simply because they fear to offend a certain class of our people who may wish them to do so. We can scarcely believe that this is the case. We should like nothing better than to give some free advertising to the man who might incul the displeasure of any set of people simply because his ideas of running his business did not agree with theirs.

TENNYSON.

Alfred Tennyson was born one hundred years ago, and it is not creditable to the English speaking people that the centennial of his birth has not had a world-wide observance. We think there are few who will question the assertion that he was the greatest poet of his time. Whether the next hundred years will add greatly to his fame or relegate him to the oblivion which overwhelms the mere verse writers of past time, depends not so much, perhaps, upon the work done by the poet, as upon the varying standards of an everchanging people. Tennyson lived and enjoyed his well-earned fame for half a century. From the time that the "Lotus Eaters" was published until he wrote and shortly afterwards had read over his grave in Westminister Abbey, "The Crossing of the Bar," was near to fifty years. Probably since Shakespeare no other poet has given melodious voice to such an infinite variety of human emotions. His topics ranged from pleasant pastoral to sublimest metaphysics, taking in the whole scope of human history, statesmanship and religion. His poetry while finely imaginative, always rings true to a knowledge of human nature and a true appreciation of the divine within it. We cannot believe that Tennyson will be forgotten for many generations. His genius endowed him with at least a measure of immortality. It was a fellow poet, Robert Buchannan who paid him this tribute

"Calm were the ways his white steed trod,
Calm were the heavens and air:
Wher'er he rode and sang of God
The world grew very fair.

"He drew aside from friends and foes
To hush his soul apart;
Clear on the air his song arose
Out of a faithful heart.

* * *

'Tis o'er; he leaves the lonely road
Whereon he fared so long;
The gentlest brightest knight of God
The Galahad of song."

THE DANGER OF LATERAL PIPE LINES.

A letter in the Los Angeles Times from Monrovia says that a physician there has "located the origin of typhoid cases which has baffled explanation for two years," and that it has been found in an unused lateral pipe line. If any physician has made a real investigation of the origin of typhoid cases, as the paper states, and has not looked for it in the dead water of an unused lateral pipe, he is a poor sample of an investigator. This paper has called the attention of the people more than once to the necessity of seeing to it that the pipes from which they draw water for domestic purposes are frequently emptied, as some lateral pipes never are by the general use of the system. It can readily be understood that a branch lateral pipe which has the slightest descent from the main, cannot be drained from that main line but must be drained from its furthest extremity. If a constant consumer is located at the extremity of that line, all will be well, but if it is tapped by a house that is left vacant for any considerable time, it becomes a menace to the health of all users. It has become almost a fad with some of our people to find fault with our water supply and blame any defect in its quality upon the "condition of the reservoirs." As a matter of fact our water supply is all right and the reservoirs are kept in good condition, but it does frequently occur that the water in some of the pipe lines does become unfit for use. Almost invariably the trouble can be remedied at once by opening the pipe at its lowest point. If a single case of typhoid should occur it might prove nothing, but if it became epidemic, the chances are nearly all in favor of the germs being disseminated through the medium of dead water in unused pipes. Glendale authorities have served notice upon the managers of water companies to have their reservoirs cleaned every two months and to have them roofed over. Both of these precautions are of some value, but amount to practically nothing compared to the far more obvious necessity of having some system adopted by which there should be some systematic care exercised over the lateral pipes that supply the daily use of our people. It would seem to us that this responsibility should belong to the water companies who furnish the water. If it is a fact that the companies have not the authority legally to exercise this supervision over private pipe lines, it becomes clear that the responsibility devolves upon the muuicipality as the conservator of the public health.

SOCIALISM.

(Contributed.)

Herbart Spencer, one of the great men of our time, said:

"There is a principle which is a bar against all information, which is proof against all argument, and which cannot fail to keep a man in everlasting ignorance; this principle is contempt prior to examination."

We meet people every day who say: "I don't want to know anything about Socialism." They are governed by the above principle, consequently never grow. All we ask is that people read our platform and some of our books on Socialism, and then if they do not approve of our principles they can give an intelligent reason why.

The people of this county consume one million dollars worth of sugar each day, and it is controlled and sold by three men—Havemeyer, Spreckles and Arbuckle. They say how much the producer may have for his raw material, how much the people shall pay and of which member the people may buy. And that is what we call liberty! What would you designate as tyranny? With the sugar industry owned and controlled by the nation, as it controlls the postal system, it could and would be sold at a much less price, and there would be no sugar trust manipulating congress and the courts. Is that too complicated to get through your think box, or must we perform a surgical operation The Western Union Telegraph company claims to have discovered that on the Pacific coast more than half its messages are sent and the money kept by its operators and all records destroyed. The training in graft has had its logical effect. How could we expect men to spend a lifetime extorting from the public for others and not fall into the habit of doing a little for themselves? Now, if the people operated the telegraph as they do the postal system, messages would be prepaid by stamps, and every sender would know the rate and place his stamp on the message, and there would be no temptation to steal, any more than there is for a postmaster to send letters without the stamp attached. The people would then have a ten-cent rate to any office in the nation.

The people are trained to believe that their government can perform no useful function for them, regardless of its immense expense to them. Will we never get on to the game? Will we never wake up to the fact that we are being exploited to the tune of millions of dollars annually.

(It is perhaps unnecessary to remind our readers that we assume no responsibility for the above. The statement in regard to the Western Union Telegraph company is wholly unfounded, to our personal knowledge.—Ed.)

BULLETIN OF PROGRESS OF THE CALIFORNIA PROMOTION COMMITTEE.

Tourist travel to California has been notably great during the month, owing to the annual convention of the Order of Elks at Los Angeles, and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle. Special trains carrying thousands have come from all parts of the country. In working for the future along similar lines it is announced by the California Promotion committee that the annual convention of the National Education association has been secured for San Francisco for 1910.

Reports of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company show that San Francisco and Los Angeles have greater distribution of telephones, according to population than any other cities in the United States, and that San Francisco has not yet been completely rehabilitated with telephones.

Early reports received by the committee from fruit districts have been fully verified by the crops now being harvested, showing that the present crop will be a material increase over that of last year.

Reports from all parts of the state show the establishment of many new manufacturing plants, and also increased interest and activity in the establishment of irrigation and power plants, and in the construction of electric railroads.

Careful estimates made of the total industrial output of California for the year 1908 place the value at $1,005,000,000.

Information given on all parts of California.

Address: The California Promotion Committee, San Francisco. Headquarters, Merchants' Exchange Bldg., after August 7th.

IN THE FOOTHILLS.

The work of converting the McCann and Kennedy ranches of North Glendale which were recently purchased by Mr. John Brockman of Los Angeles, into a country home is progressing rapidly. The estate, which contains about forty acres of orchard and one hundred of mountain land, has been enclosed from Kenneth road to the sky line. On a superb location, commanding a wide view of the valley, extensive grading is being done, preparatory to building. A roomy bungalow for the gardener, is nearing completion and water is being developed, a tunnel which has been driven two hundred feet into the mountain yielding a generous supply.

Hundreds of shade trees, ever-green and palms along the winding drive are part of the scheme for beautifying the place which Mr. Brockman intends to make a delightful summer home for his family and a peaceful retreat for himself from business cares.

At K. of P. hall tonight, the first moving picture show ever brought to Glendale will exhibit. The program is said to be an excellent one, consisting of three reels of a varied assortment of pictures.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

August 29th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Paul on Christian Love — I Cor. 13:1-13.

Golden Text—And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three, but the greatest of these is love. I Cor. 13:13.

Verse 1—What is the utmost which can be claimed for the gift of eloquence?

Why is an eloquent man without love, like a brass band with cymbal accompaniments?

Will eloquence without love, make a man acceptable to God?

Will eloquence without love, make a man acceptable to his fellows, or give any lasting satisfaction to himself?

Verse 2—Is there any necessary moral praise due to a man who has the gift of prophecy, and has intuitive knowledge of mystery?

Is there any more necessary praise to be accorded to a big man than to a little man?

If God gives a man the faith so he can remove a mountain and he at the same time is without love, what good is the faith to him?

Verse 3—Do some people give liberally, and suffer personal inconvenience, who have no real love in their hearts and if so, what is it which prompts to these acts?

If a man gives when it can be seen, and does not give when it cannot be seen, is there any love in his heart or any real merit in his charity?

Should the church refuse to accept of money for the Gospel or for charity, from those who clearly give to be seen of men?

Do those who give without love, but to be seen of men, reap any benefit from it, or does it hurt them?

Can you conceive of a man giving his body to be burned, for his religion with an impure motive, or without love in his heart?

What is the only thing which recommends us to God in and of itself?

Verses 4-7—What proof can you give that love is long suffering and kind?

If we really love a person will we ever speak of him to his injury, no matter what the provocation may be?

What is it in love, which tends to patience, politeness, kindness, gentleness, and humility?

May a person be controlled by love, and be envious at the same time, and if not, why not?

Does love always make a man think of "the other fellow" before himself?

What does love take all its pleasure from?

Verses 8-13—Can despondency or doubt, or depression, or hopelessness, or any other bad feeling, occupy the heart that is filled with love?

What will be the relative value or uses in heaven, of faith, hope, eloquence, knowledge, love?

What is really the sum total of all things, or that which sums up in itself all the blessedness, nobility, and happiness, that the mind can conceive, or the heart crave, and why is it so? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)
